

Dear FCC,I actively support this proposed change to amateur radio licensing structures. I believe the intent of the ARRL with this proposal is to expand the appeal of the amateur radio hobby to a broader range of people. The removal of the morse code requirement from all classes except amateur extra will serve both those who don't feel the need to learn an outdated communications method not required by the ITU and not used by commercial or government interests in day to day communication, and will still leave a section of the amateur HF spectrum exclusively for those who's interest lies in in this historical method of communication. I believe it represents the best mix of licensing classes to serve all interested radio amateurs. As a tax payer and a radio amateur, please register my support for this proposed change.

Regards,

Alan Dye
